

Dear Hiring Manager,

I hope this message finds you well.

My name is Ishan Malik, and I'm reaching out to express my interest in potential opportunities within your organization. With a background in Supply Chain and hands-on experience in logistics management, I'm eager to explore how my skills may align with your current or future needs.

In my previous role at V Power Logistics, I oversaw shipment coordination, optimized delivery timelines, and led successful rate negotiations with carriers — resulting in improved efficiency and reduced costs. I place a strong emphasis on clear communication, ensuring timely issue resolution and high customer satisfaction.

Thank you for considering my candidature. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how I can contribute to your team, and am available for a conversation at your convenience. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Ishan Malik
