Summary

I'm a logistics management student who is passionate about supply chains and logistics. I've developed my abilities in inventory control, warehouse management, and transportation. My rigorous academic study has enhanced my abilities to solve complicated challenges and streamline procedures for efficiency. I pick things up quickly, work well in groups, and am excited to put my skills and passion to use in the real world. The chance to provide value and have a significant effect to your dynamic logistics team excites me.

Internship
